ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAMS

HAVAS AGENCY

Marseilles, 27th

Deaths from cholera yesterday, 27.

Toulon, 27th

Deaths from cholera yesterday, 10.

Paris, 27th

Popular demonstrations continue in Spain. Nevertheless there is not much strain in diplomatic relations with Germany.

London, 27th

Telegrams from Bombay announce that the Anglo-Indian legislature has voted a project of law inhibiting the transcription of telegraphic dispatches by any journal except that which receives them first.

Rio de Janeiro, 27th

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

London, 26th—The Paris Bankers accept the modifications proposed by Government. Some resistance is offered by the London Bankers.

Madrid, 25th—Since the plague has broken out 187,555 cases, of which 72,347 proved fatal, have occurred in Spain.

Yesterday there were 4701 fresh and 1433 fatal cases.

Marseilles, 25—Sixty seven fatal cases of cholera are reported.

Toulon, 25th—Twenty six fatal cases were reported yesterday.

Toulon, 26th—Only 10 fatal cases occured yesterday.

Madrid, 25th—The Press has expressed much dissatisfaction at the indifference displayed by England with regard to the present difficulties between Spain and Germany, and hints that this indifference is a silent approval of Germany's conduct.

Paris, 25th—In official circles it is believed that disinterested powers advise Spain and Germany to settle their difficulties by arbitration.

Paris, 26th—The Press unanimously praise Spain's conduct and attitude towards Germany in consequence of the occupation of the Caroline Islands and advise the utmost resistance.

London, 26th—The Daily News correspondent telegraphs from Paris that the Spanish General Salamanca, has decided to return the Berlin Government the decoration of the Red Eagle, with which he had been honored.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard states that, if arbitration be resorted to, to settle the Caroline Islands question, Queen Victoria and not King Humbert, will be named arbitrator.

The same correspondent states later on that Germany has refused either to propose or accept arbitration, as it is rumored that England is opposed to the Spanish occupation of the Caroline Islands.

Berlin, 26th—The Cologne Times publishes a conciliatory article on the difficulties between Spain and Germany, and hopes that everything will be satisfactorily arranged with a little mutual "bonne volonte."

Paris 26th—Count Bonomar, Spanish Ambassador in this city, telegraphed to his Government that Germany does not consider it expedient to establish a protectorate in the Caroline Islands and consequently will relinquish her pretensions to their occupation.

The same dignitary had previously telegraphed that Germany would dispute the possession of the Caroline Islands and would submit the question to arbitration.

Paris 25th—At a Cabinet Council it was decided to give explanations of the incident that lately occurred in consequence of the rumored death of Olivier Pain. The British Ambassador, Lord Lyons, in return, paid an official visit to the Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Berne 25th.—In the city of Lausania, numerous placards have been posted on the walls of the houses, with threats from the secret Swiss Anarchist Association to burn down all the foreign Legations established in this capital. Much excitement prevails.

A letter from Herat received in Merv in the beginning of August announced the arrival of £40,000 in that city and great activity in strenghtening the fortifications.

Kremsir 25th—The Czar and Czarina, and the imperial escort, arrived here this morning. The Emperor of Austria and Prince Rodolph awaited the arrival of the Imperial travellers at the station.

St. Petersburg 26th—The Journal de St. Petersbourg, with reference to the interview between the Czar and Emperor of Austria, expresses the hope that the meeting will result in closer and more friendly relations between Russia and Austria.

Toulon 25th—The Bayard, with the remains of the late Admiral Courbet on board, arrived to-day at Hyeres.

Souakim, 25th—Over 200 natives attacked the village of Singat situated at a distance of 140 miles north of this city, and completely destroyed it.

The English and the native allies killed a considerable number of Arabs, and seized large quantities of cereals.

Alexandria, 26th — Counter-orders have been received, in virtue of which the English troops still remain in this city, including the Gordon Highlanders.

Dublin. 26th—The Ursaline Convent at Balltruck, Co. Waterford, has been destroyed by fire. The inmates succeeded in escaping without injury.

Washington, 26th—The remains of Capt. S L Phelps, formerly Minister n Peru, have arrived in this city. Funeral is fixed for October.

Montevideo, 27th—The new ball-alley, at the Arroyo Seco, will be inaugurated to-morrow. The alley will be about the same size as the Euskara in Buenos Ayres.

Advices have been received announcing the suicide of Mr. Woodroffe, Engineer and Director of the Rio Grande Cable. It is stated that he was driven to take this step in consequence of some love affair.

Twenty-six prisoners were liberated on the 25th. The prudence of such philanthropy is questionable.

The Perseo arrived last night.

INDIAN COLONIES.

Shaihueque, the great Indian chieftain, who not many moons ago held unlimited sway over the smiling banks of Nahuel Huapi—the legendary lake with the silvery name—must have heard already that his great and good brother, President Roca, has not forgotten him, and that Congress is discussing a bill to give his Indian followers free land grants, and to hand him, Namuncura, and Requencura a league of land and 60$ monthly salary each. There are few instances in the history of the world—from the days when Abraham fed his flocks on the Syrian plains—of a greater collapse than that of Shaihueque and Namuncura, who are now reduced to a square league of land and to the wretched salary of the most humble Government clerk.

Shaihueque was King of Nahuel Huapi and of the Everlasting Apple region, the most beautiful and most fertile territory in the South. His was a land of smiling valleys, irrigated by innumerable rivers and torrents; of gentle slopes shaded by lofty Araucarias, crowned with pine—clad summits and girdled with willows which dipped their foliage into the Limay, Nauquen, and other rapid streams of the Andine triangle; of lofty mountains and rugged scenery, that inspired his followers with that indomitable spirit of freedom and adventure, combined with a certain grandeur of character and simplicity of habits, that stamp the people of mountainous countries. In this land of promise, Shaihueque and his followers thrived and multiplied, until General Villegas drove them out of their paradise at the point of the bayonet. The unfortunate Indians were driven south of Nahuel Huapi and Limay, from a land of apples and strawberries into one of stones and brambles, where vegetation, afraid to raise its head, creeps, and misery is written on the brow of nature. Surrender was inevitable. Shaihueque and his followers are at the feet of the Government; they should be treated with generosity, as they were, taking all in all, the most respectable Indians of the south and only went wrong when led astray by their ferocious brethren of the pampa plains.

Namuncura is an Indian of quite different calibre, and forms a striking contrast with the chieftain of the Apple country. Bred in warfare, murder and plunder, Namuncura is a worthy son of Calfucura, the late Emperor of the Pampa Indians, and one of the most unmitigated villains that ever haunted the pampa from the foot of the Andes to the Atlantic Coast. Calfucura conquered the pampa by treachery of the basest kind, held his swey for 25 years over all the tribes by treachery, and beat the Buenos Ayres and Argentine troops for 20 years in treacherous warfare. His victims, both Indian and Christian, both men and women and children, are counted by thousands and thousands. This was the father of Namuncura, who has inherited all the vices of the great Indian, happily without his extraordinary strategy in war and consummate and treacherous ability in politics and diplomacy. His followers are the men who sacked the estancias of Buenos Ayres and Santa Fé for the last twenty years. Congress, in dealing with these Pampa Indians, must observe a conduct different to that with regard to Shaihueque and his followers. Free land grants may be given to the Patagonian and Manzanero Indians in the Rio Negro valley, or in the Chubut, or on the Limay, but the old pampa Indians of Namuncura and his Caciques must be kept far away from the frontier where they would be a constant danger to settlers. These Pampa Indians have few or no redeeming qualities; they are lazy, treacherous, and, as a rule, incorrigible drunkards. As General Mansilla said in Congress, the lands which the Government intends giving them, will be thrown away, as they will sell their farms for a bottle of bad liquor.

The bill at present befooe Congress runs as follows:—

Art. 1—The Governors of National territories shall give to each Indian family, under their jurisdiction, a plot of land of 30 hectares, in the vicinity of town or existing colonies. Three persons to be reckoned a family. This grant may be extended to 100 hectares for chieftains, or Indians who are deserving of the distinction.

Art. 2—A league of land shall be set apart for every settlement of 100 Indian families for forage purposes.

Art. 3—Hereby a league of land and a monthly salary of $60 m/n are granted to Shaihueque, Namuncura, and Requencura, respectively.

Art. 4 — Agricultural implements, seeds, and animals for subsistence, shall be granted to each family during the first year.

Art. 5—Each family must build a comfortable house, and the local Government shall help them in every possible manner.

Art 6—A chaplain shall be appointed to every settlement exceeding 200 persons.

Art. 7—In case of marriage of an Indian, included in this law, with a white person, a plot of land shall be granted on the same terms as above.

Art. 8—The local Government and the National Executive are bound to convey free of expense all Indians who wish to pass from one point of the territory to another in search of labor, etc.

The above are the chief features of the bill. It is a bill of good intentions and will answer well for some tribes, but it would be a sad mistake to settle dangerous tribes on the frontier.

FROM OUR BROTHER-EDITOR.

London, July 22nd.

The Daily News of this morning announces another Argentine loan, concluded with Baring Brothers, and the leading Hebrew bankers of Paris, for a sum of 2½ millions sterl. This is, doubtless, the result of the Pelligrini mission and is apparently the balance, or part of the balance, of the 30 million dollar loan, which has had such a chequered career. I need hardly remind you that the project originally was for 100 million dollars to make Unified Argentines, after the manner of Unified Uruguays or Unified Egyptians. Then one of the Houses of Congress reduced it to 80 millions, and, after sundry adventures, it came out of the Legislature reduced to 30 millions. At the opening of Congress in 1885 General Roca announced that it was successfully concluded, but it seems only one-third had been taken. Altogether, it has not been a fortunate loan, and I hope will be the last for some years, as the public debt is now over 10 per cent. of the public wealth.

An Entre Rios Railway Loan for £700,000 was launched yesterday by Messrs. Murrieta, the notice of which runs as follows:—

"Entre Rios Central Railway Mortgage Bonds.—Messrs. C. de Murrieta and Co. will receive subscriptions for an issue of £700,000, in 7,000 six per cent. mortgage bonds of £100 each, at the price of £91½ per cent. The bonds are issued direct by the Government of Entre Rios, one of the leading provinces of the Argentine Republic, and the National Government has by contract with the province, dated the 17th day of December, 1884, agreed to pay the province one-half the service of the loan, not exceeding 260,000 dollars per annum. The loan forms a first mortgage on the Central Railway of an intended length of about 300 kilometres, and is further secured on the Contribucion Directa (income or property tax) and the "tabladas" (tax on animals, produce, &c.), of the province of Entre Rios. The principal of the bonds is redeemable at par by a fixed accumulative sinking fund of 1 per cent. per annum, by half-yearly drawings, the first to be made on the 1st of June, 1886."

The loan is for making a railway from Parana to Concepcion, 180 miles, passing through Nogoyá and Tala, to be completed by January, 1887, at £6,700 per mile, say £1,230,000, payable by the Entre Rios Government in these bonds at 85, that is, seventeen shillings in the £. In fact, the line is to cost £1,450,000 in bonds, or £8,000 per mile, and although it seems a high figure, it is probably much cheaper than the method, heretofore pursued, of making loans in Europe and constructing the railways for Government account. As Murrieta takes the bonds at 85 and emits them in this market at 91½, he will have a good profit in the transaction. He will probably have to pay the contractors £6,000 a mile, and these gentlemen (whoever they be) ought to net £1,000 a mile for themselves.

Our own correspondent will keep you so well informed on all political matters that I need hardly allude to the Russian question. There is, however, a remarkable letter from Arminius Vambery, in to-day's Times, pointing out that we must not let the Russians seize the Zulfikar Pass, but make it a "casus belli." He shows that Persia is now practically subject to Russia, and that England must stand by the Ameer of Afghanistan at all hazards. You may wonder that I did not send you a telegram when the news arrived of the murder of Abdurraman at Cabul, but I did not believe it at the time, and it turned out untrue. I know how impatient you are for telegrams, as the British public want them, but I prefer to send none rather than doubtful ones.

We have news this morning that the Kassala garrison made a sortie and killed 3,000 followers of the Mahdi, but since Gordon's death nobody cares to hear any more of the Soudan. The news of the Mahdi's death, on reaching London a few days ago, caused an extra sale of evening papers, and has since been confirmed by Cairo telegrams, but nobody believes the news. His advanced guard of howling dervishes entered Korti in the last days of June, and has probably by this time reached Dongola, which has been evacuated by our old friend the Mudir. Hussein Khalifa, the Mahdi's envoy, was received very kindly by the Khedive, and gave a verbal message. The Mahdi, however, has not fulfilled his threat of keeping the Ramadan at Cairo, which began last week.

The Times says intrigues are on foot to expel Tewfik and restore Ismail Pasha, but the Daily News says Arabi Pasha would be better. This is what Mr. Wilfrid Blunt said three years ago. Sir Edward Thornton's removal to Constantinople may have reference to this new Egyptian move: he is succeeded at the Russian capital by Sir Robert Morier.

The Munster Bank is to be revived, the Directors having obtained a loan of £500,000 in London.

The Times yesterday had a leading article on the farewell of Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft from the stage: they seem to have been great favorites with the public.

M. G. M.

CURSO FORZOSO PAYMENTS.

The following important decision, given by D. Eduardo Legarreta, President of the Bolsa Syndicate, in a case left to his arbitration by two leading commercial firms of this market, is of the highest importance at the present moment. Mr. Legarreta has taken a strictly legal view of the question, and, even in equity, from the broad standpoint of public weal, he is perhaps right, however hardly it may press in individual cases:—

Buenos Ayres,
August 25th 1885.

Messrs W. Bertram and M. Unzue.

My dear Sirs.

You have submitted the following document for my arbitration as to how payment should be made:—

"I have bought from Mr. W. Bertram, he having first inspected it, for 25,000 hard dollars, the estancia 'Argentina,' in the department of Concordia, Entre Rios, Gualeguaychu district, with all its buildings; 'corrales' etc.; its area being one league, 1,439 square squares, and 4,500 squaze yards. Payment will be made on the deeds being signed etc.

Buenos Ayres, June 21, 1884.

(Signed) Mariano Unzué.
(Signed) W. Bertram.
Before me,
Nougier.

The purchase has been made on the condition that the camp be delivered free from settlers

(Signed) M. Unzué."

As, on account of the last clause, and difficulties about the deeds, these have not been drawn up as yet, you wish to know if Don Mariano Unzué can make the payment in notes of legal tender, after the forced currency decree of January of this year.

The standard of value is not absolutely in gold, unless when this metal is declared to be money by a nation in the exercise of its sovereign faculties; and from this point of view money is money whether the stamp of the country that recognises it as such be impressed on gold, on silver, or on paper. The power to create money or determine its legality is inherent to sovereignty. Government has as much right to declare a bank note to be legal tender as gold or silver. Consequently, it does not depend on the the will of private parties in what money a payment must be made when laws have been enacted that abolish the form of payment agreed upon.

Supposing that in the present case, Unzué's bond was to pay in coined ounces or pounds sterling, and that previous to payment being made, a law were passed demonetizing ounces and pounds sterling, and prohibiting their introduction into and circulation in the country, in what money should the payment be made?

The faculty of Government to determine this is undeniable in this case, and the payment should be made in whatever money was legal tender, whether such were gold, silver, copper, or paper.

The National authorities having declared that "paper money must be received in payment of debts both by the Government and private parties, we have a forced paper currency, as a consequence of the recognised power of Government to dictate the measure; a power which no economist has challenged, and which our own antecedents and principles have recognised. Hence the forced currency of bank notes, which, according to Batbie, is merely the negation of being able to obtain coin for them at any moment, and consequently, implies the obligation of private parties to accept them as money.

Such was the spirit of the English forced currency (Restriction Act); of the French laws of 1848 and 1870; of the United States' 'Legal Tender Act,' and the law of 1866 in Italy.

In our country the courts have given different interpretations to the spirit of the law of 1876, some decisions being favorable, and others the reverse; although on appeal, the point was settled in the cases of Sivori versus Molina, Moller versus Casares etc. But the Act of 1876 was neither in its origin or its letter of forced currency law. It established that notes were legal tender, so long as they were convertible (Art 2). The present decree, on the contrary, is a forced currency decree. It is an exact copy of the French law of 1848, a law that nobody in that country obeyed, but which the tribunals enforced.

The French law says:

"Art 1—From this present date the notes of the Bank of France shall be received as legal tender in the public offices and by private parties.

Art. 2—Until further enactment the Bank of France is relieved from the obligation of converting its notes into coin.

The Argentine decree, copied by Dr. Plaza, says exactly the same thing, merely substituting "the National and Provincial Banks" for "the Bank of France."

French jurisprudence under this law is well known, and ours can not be different, as we have copied the law to the letter. The Judges, therefore, may differ in appying the law of 1876; although it can never be justly said that the restrictive application of it in some cases was right. Forced currency can never be sustained on principle, or as a permanent institution; but it is a legitimate recourse which no nation has been able to avoid using in moments of great crisis.

I have thus explained the spirit of similar laws in other countries, and in our own I need not show that forced currency has never been interpreted in any other way, either from a legal point of view (with some few exceptions) or in practice

The State banks and the private ones had between them about 40,000 depositors, more or less, holding receipts stating "payable in coined gold;" but not one of the holders of such receipts has asked to be paid in coin. The banks and merchants have done the same with their creditors. No bank has been asked to pay in gold. The English Bank in Rosario tried it, but had to give it up.

Nevertheless, in certain cases, and interpreting the decree of 1876, some judges have dissented from this, but the banks, the merchants and the public have nowhere even discussed it; but, as a distinguished jurisconsult says, this act of the judges is destroyed by events, by tradition, by custom, which is forced and is right.

It might be proved that the judges were mistaken; and this present case shows it, as neither the debtor nor creditor has accepted their decisions. If the public did not think in the same manner, thousands of Judges would not suffice to decide the questions that would be raised.

In the case 'sub judice' it is not stated that payment shall be made in coined gold, but simply in hard dollars, that is to say, $25 m/c for one, and there was not even the intention that it should necessarily be made in gold, as the broker interested in the case avers.

For the foregoing considerations I, therefore, declare:

1st—That the effects of the forced currency apply both to the past and the future.

2nd—That no one can refuse the forced currency note in payment of obligations contracted in any shape, as the law has declared it legal and forced tender to cancel obligations contracted by private parties.

And that, consequently, the obligation contracted by Don Mariano Unzue, to pay 25,000 hard dollars is well discharged by his paying, at their face value, in notes of any of the banks included in the decrees of forced currency issued in January of this year.

Yours truly

E. B. Lagarreta.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Aug. 24th.

The news is more tranquilizing from Tonquin, but the French do not disguise the fact that they have a terrible charge on their arm. Madagascar is also a burden grievous to be borne. An influential journal states that the troops there have no other variation for their ennui but "sunstroke and fever"—the latter is no joking matter. Tunisia is not on the right track yet, but the Governor (M. Cambon) said, if his countrymen desire colonies, they must take lessons from the English. That will be about as bitter a pill to swallow as Gordon Pacha recommending the British to study chivalry from the French. The age of chivalry is thus not past.

The Budget has been well thrashed, but not much practical good has resulted therefrom. It has confirmed the nation in its belief that the finances of the country are in a very bad state, the result of gross mismanagement rather than of extravagance. It is the budgetary legislation that is all wrong. The Parliament has not the courage to cast its ordinary and extraordinary budgets into one, and so give a common-sense balance sheet yearly. Only two ways can money be obtained to escape the Slough of Despond—fresh taxes or a loan, both unpalatable and dangerous. The paper-makers have succeeded in voting the abolition of the paper duty; that involves a loss of fourteen millions of receipts. As a set-off, unoccupied premises will for the future have to pay taxes. Unfortunately, they are now numerous and will aid in compelling landlords to reduce their exorbitant rents.

The country continues to be profoundly apathetic to the frantic efforts of professional politicians to crack them up. There is neither a man nor a programme round which electors can rally. All is barren, from Dan to Beersheba. The feeling gains ground that M. Grèvy will be re-elected. He has been most successful in doing as little as possible with letting matters alone. That was Lord Melbourne's wise maxim also.

The new English Cabinet is considered as prudent and plucky. Let it only, as people here say, know its own mind, and every Power will be able to see its own way. By Lord Salisbury working in with Bismarck—for if there be no doing with the Chancellor there is certainly less possibility of doing without him—no grave difficulties are to be apprehended. The Afghan Question is still regarded as a war-cloud, but, as opinion is dead against Russia, the latter will be slow to provoke the bursting.

The screeching over the Olivier Pain affair has ceased from sheer hoarseness. "Perfide Albion" is not the less held responsible for doing what she has not done. One fact appears to be established, that Pain was the emissary accredited to the Madhi of the Anti-English Egyptian party and their organs. Respectable journals view with some uneasiness the continued harpings of the extreme journals on the Pall-Mall Gazette text on English society. It is not fair to denounce any nation for the concentrated vices of its capital, and especially for one abominable phase common to all. The attacks on the Prince of Wales are most unjust and unchivalrous. He has ever shown himself to be the friend of France, and it would be politic to remember that he will, in the natural course of events, be King of England.

A terrible case of murder and suicide has occurred at St Denis Canal. An angler was in a lonely spot pursuing his ordinary calling. On the opposite bank passed by a workman accompanied by his two pretty girls, aged 12 and 13, who gamboled with a ball. He paid no attention till he saw the father clasp the two children round the waist, hug and kiss them, and then jump into the water with them. The alarm was given, but it was ten minutes ere assistance could be organised. The three bodies were observed in the bottom of the canal, grouped as they plunged in, and were brought to the Morgue, where the mother and eldest sister found them. The father was once in good circumstances, as an artist in a foundry. It was he who cast the metal fountain of "St. Michael slaying Satan," on the Boulevard St. Michael. It was he, also, who cast the head of Bartholdi's "Liberty." The unfortunate lost his fortune and situation by a mania for inventions, so that he was positively starving, and reduced to making colored toy-balloons to live.

Patti having compounded the annuity she was to give her penniless husband, the Marquis de Caux, by paying down a quarter of a million of francs, has formally gone through the ceremony of divorce, at the Mayor's Office, in the eighth ward. The room in which Patti was divorced was that wherein she was married in 1863. After the ceremony, she returned in hot haste to London. Her "best men" at the dissolution were two Parisian editors—one, by a curious coincidence, of the Charivari, and the other of the Figaro. Patti intends marrying Nicolini, called in his native town of Toulouse—sacred to fat geese and tenors—Nicholas. The latter's wife and the mother of his five children, is not averse to a divorce, if she and her little ones be amply provided for. It is all a question of cash that stands between the little prima donna and perfect bliss.

Dr. Pinel has received his statue. He was born at St. André, in Tarn, and died in Paris in 1826, of apoplexy. He belonged to a family of physicians, and in a sense professionally educated himself in medicine by giving lessons in mathematics and acting as private tutor. He had a profound knowledge of the English language, and added to his income by translating for the French scientific and medical Press. His speciality was mental disease. Independent of his systems, he is honored as being the first to demand the rights of humanity for lunatics, and for the absurd and barbarous chaining of the insane he substituted goodness, kindness, justice and decision, tempered with patience. It was thus he was unanimously elected director of the asylums of Bicêtre and Saltpètrière, which he soon changed into model asylums from having been charnel-houses. During the Reign of Terror he saved several notabilities from death—Condorcet among others—by sheltering them in the asylum. Strange, it was a madman that denounced his humane conduct, and which led to his arrest. He would have been executed, only the Terrorists themselves preceded him.

M. Meynard, a cotton-spinner of Vaucluse, has just died, and bequeathed his fortune to himself, as he has no relatives. He orders his remains to be directly removed from the bed and encased in a block of granite, to be fastened with cement; then a funeral monument is to be erected in his picture gallery, and the sarcophagus is to be used as the chief corner-stone. The house is to be maintained in the same state as when he died, and "all the living animals therein" cared till they die.

"What adorable teeth you have, my dear!" "Only wait till you see my next new set!"

ENGLISH LITERARY SOCIETY.

The fourth and last Entertainment of the season took place on Wednesday evening, and was, in every respect, a brilliant success.

It having been determined to devote the entire evening to music, the artistic arrangements were left entirely in the hands of a musical member of the committee, and we must congratulate the society on the charming programme presented. It was so well arranged that instrumental alternated with vocal numbers, and the numerous audience that assembled showed their approbation by frequent and hearty rounds of applause, and by remaining in their seats till the last notes of Leslie's glee "Evening" had died away.

The concert opened with a brilliant four hand piece, "Les Oceanides," given by Dr. Mackern and Mrs. Thompson; this was followed by a spirited four-part glee for male voices, "The Tars' Song" by Hatton; this was splendidly sung by Messrs Boys, Biggs, Howson, and Holtun, and earned a well merited encore. Leslie's glee, given at the end, is more elaborate and difficult and was not so well sung, but it was a most creditable performance considering the short time the gentlemen had had it in rehearsal. Two violin solos, by Mr. Otto Steinhardt, were extremely well played, especially the "Aria" by Bach; this gentleman produces a very fine tone and received the honour of a recall. Miss A Freund, the talented pianist, contributed with great effect Chopin's difficult Scherzo in B flat; this lady's fine playing is so universally known and appreciated here that we need only say another laurel was added on Wednesday to the many she has already gained. The first part was brought to an end by the wellknown German theme "Loreley" effectively arranged for violin, violincello, and piano. Mr. W. Mackern junr. and his cello are once more welcomed in the artistic arena, and contributed in no small measure to the great success of this piece which was encored by exclamation.

After another four-hand piano piece, Mr. Boys sang most sweetly Gounod's pretty song "Le Nom de Marie," earning an enthusiastic recall. Then Mr. Rolandone, jr., son of the well known professor, sat down to the piano and delighted us all by a masterly rendering of Gottschalk's great concert piece "Le Bataille," played from memory and with perfect execution; we believe Mr. Rolandone has a brilliant future before him. Mr. Holtun then astonished the audience by showing the remarkable compass of his fine voice in Pinsuti's song the "Bugler;" in reply to an ovation he sang with still better effect "The Diver." Then came a remarkable performance on the flute by Mr. R. Berghmanns well-known in amateur circles; he had chosen the "Fantasia Melancolica" and he fairly electrified his hearers by the wonderful way he played some of the variations, so much so, that he was several times interrupted by rounds of applause. Mr. F. Mackern then contributed with much taste and feelng Kuchen's charming song "Le Fleur du Vallon;" an encore being demanded, he then completely bewitched his audience with Tosti's "Tu Rempliras Mes Jours."

After a glee "Evening" by Leslie, the curtain decended on the most finished and select concert ever given by the Literary Society. Much praise is due to Mr. Hampson for his fine accompanying throughout the concert, and for the excellent result of the part singing. The pretty saloon of the French Society La France in Calle Lavalle, had been hired for the occasion and proved most suitable, not only on account of its central position but also for its great acoustic properties.

Altogether we congratulate the English Literary Society on the great eclat with which it has terminated its season of entertainments.

PUBLIC LANDS

(From "El Liberal.")

The Minister of the Interior has taken a highly imprudent step, the consequences of which may prove most detrimental to the interests of the country. In virtue of the law passed by Congress last year in favor of the Rio Negro settlers, no concession is allowed to those who had not settled on the lands five years previous to 1882. In consequence of this, many petitions from settlers under these conditions were rejected. Furthermore—and we most emphatically condemn the imprudence of the measure—the Governor of the Rio Negro has issued orders for the withdrawal of these settlers. This step, the action of which will be considerable, will drive away many settlers, and thousands of sheep and cattle.

We need not dwell on the disastrous results which must necessarily follow this emigration. It would be far more advantageous to postpone the carrying out of the law until the lands occupied by these settlers be sold or utilised for colonization purposes. We may add that a petition has been presented to Congress to extend the action of the law of 1884 to all settlers up to 1882. Whether the petition be favorably or unfavorably received, it is a question of great moment that requires a speedy solution; for, if the emigration we have referred to take place, of what use will be the amendment of the law? In the mean time we call Dr. Paz's attention to the case.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The ball at Dr Alvear's on Wednesday was one of the grandest of the season. The saloons were crowded to their utmost with the High Life of Buenos Ayres, and Madame Roca, wife of President Roca, who has been so long an invalid, was there to assist at the nuptials of Dr Alvear's daughter.

Ex-president Avellaneda is in Paris at the Hotel Scribe. we regret to say in poor health. Dr Rawson went over from London to attend him; we believe it's probable that he will soon return.

The loan revelations in yesterday's Nacion were the talk of the whole town. It seems, according to our colleague, that we were all wrong, that no money has been sent home to meet the service of the loan as was stated up to end of year, and that the gold which has come out has to go back at once, as it was an advance on a loan that has never been negotiated. "En fin" a more damaging statement could hardly be published, and we look to the Minister for its contradiction.

Dr Laspiur's funeral, yesterday, was the event of the day, all the Government and Tribunal people were there; speeches were made over the grave, but no allusion made to the coffin lid, or that undiscovered bourne, etc.

We are happy to say the cholera news from France last night was much more favorable.

Dr Quintana, who has so many friends here, is now in London, but leaves shortly for the bathing season at Ostend, and at the close of the summer returns to Buenos Ayres.

We publish to-day the decision of Mr. Legaretta, President of the Bolsa, on the difficult question of "curso fosozo;" we think it right to say that on conversing with this gentleman on this decision we learn that he never for a moment in his decision adverted to gold contracts made subsequent to "curso forsozo," and when he spoke o the future he referred to bills and contracts maturing which were signed and concluded before the "curso forsozo" decree was yet published.

With deep regret we publish the following truly sad news from Paris:—

"An extraordinary communication, which certainly requires to be verified, has been made to the Academy of Sciences. It is that Dr Ferran inoculated forty-seven nuns engaged in attending cholera patients, and that all of them have died in consequence. What is more extraordinary still is that, far from seeing in this communication an argument against Dr Ferran's vaccination, M. Pasteur said on hearing of it, 'It really killed the nuns he has got hold of cholera virus. It proves fatal because he does not understand how to use it. Let him send some to Paris, and in eight days it will be turned into a harmless vaccine."

It may interest some of our readers to hear that Miss Rose Junes, a Chilian heiress, £300,000 stg., has married Mr Santley in London, the great singer.

A River Plate friend travelling in Europe writes us that he visited Mr Yeoman's celebrated establishment in England, saw the Herefords and how they are raised, and he advises all friends out here to buy these animals in preference to all other breeds as they are really first-class.

The latest about the Dons and the Teutons is that the whole rumpus is settled. Bismarck says he won't take the islands. There was a tremendous 100,000 souls meeting in Madrid against Germany, and the first men in the country marched through the streets with the citizens and the mob, who carried the speakers on their shoulders, cheering madly for Spain, and yelling "Down with Germany! Down with Alfonso! Down with England! and 'viva la Republica!'" The Dons have got into their fiery head that England is winking at Germany's course. In Vigo the mob made it unpleasant for the German Consul, but he kept a whole skin. The question is, what the h——ickory Bismarck means by suddenly raising this unholy row about a few miserable islands. The old gentleman has probably some big thing on hand in Europe and is throwing dust about to conceal it. Postcriptum—Our colleague the Correo Español issued a tremendous bulletin last night; Bismarck has changed his mind and won't give up the islands. All Spain is on fire, and there is one unanimous shout for war, and immense preparations have commenced. It is impossible not to admire the pluck of the Spaniards in this affair.

The Nacion had a great article on Retrenchment yesterday; and made some bouncing statements as to the foreign loans being provided for up to December, as stated some time ago. Brokers turned as pale as boiled chickens at the news. There is either a tremendous mistake or downright crammer on one side or the other. When is all this miserable work to stop? But for the confidence people have in the country itself, gold would be at 200 premium. The Electioneering Budget is the great stumbling-block to Retrenchment. It's outrageous.

Yesterday was Packet Review day and most of our colleagues were utterly unreadable. We believe it was the STANDARD that invented the Review system. Imitation is the sincerest flattery.

It appears that Bismarck grubbed a French island in the Pacific lately also, but has consented to give it up. The man of blood and iron is becoming quite complacent.

The Prensa is pitching into the wooden pavement and advocating stone. We really wonder at our enlightened colleague doing this. The detestable stone pavement of Buenos Ayres has cost the blighted tax-payers of Buenos Ayres millions and millions of wasted money.

Mr. Dawson C. E. has resigned his post in the Hydrographical Department. This is a loss for that body.

EDITOR'S TABLE

There was a grand funeral service on Wednesday in Pilar church for the late General Villegas. There was a large attendance, but not so many army officers as might have been expected.

The lady of the house was a handsome woman of a mature order of beauty, and when she had finisher her toilet she gazed fondly at herself in the glass, and remarked to her new maid: "You'd give a good deal to be as good-looking as I am, would'nt you now?" "Yes'mam almost as much as you would give to be as young as I am." It is not believed this epi-grammatic young woman will be chosen again at the expiration of her present term.

The Education Board comes in for 80,000 Nats. out of the Garcia estate, off which Dr. Nazaar has taken such a large slice. The old lady cut up for about 800,000 nats.

The Sebastiani Company re-appears at the Eden Theatre on Saturday night.

The Health Board refuse to make the least concession to sailing ships in the way of quarantine. This is the good old pig-headed style. We verily believe that if a ship were ten years at sea she would be quarantined in the Plate on arrival.

There was another breeze in the La Plata Chambers on Wednesday about the Municipality with which the enchanted city is blessed. We are not very clear as to how it ended; but one thing is as clear as crystal—the Municipality in question is over-worked and wants the permanent rest afforded by private life.

The "arquoa" defrauders have been released on bail. What that bail is we don't know, but suppose it to be something stronger than their "parole d'honneur."

Facetious party (the local lawyer, who likes to have a joke with his clients)—"I say, Pat, suppose the devil were suddenly to appear now, which of us would he take first, d'y'think?" Pat—"Me, of coorse; for shure he knows he can have your Honour at any time, bad luck to him!"

A lot of steevedores were caught smuggling the other night. They landed at midnight from a German barque in the Outer Roads, and, as they passed the Resguardo the guards remarked that they all looked as fat as pigs or elderly ladies from the country. On their being searched, hats, silks, fans, boots and all kinds of things were found twisted round their bodies and stowed away in the most laughable fashion. The goods were taken from them, and they were allowed to go in peace. The finale of the affair looks rather suspicious.

The Tug Company at the Boca have reduced their charges 50 per cent. What's up? Is the tug of war coming?

More opera! The Rajneri company will be here in a few days. The 'photos' of the ladies look very nice indeed, and, no doubt, the ladies themselves will look nicer still. That old public favourite Madlle Beloff, is amongst them.

The Italian "industriales" intend giving a grand feed on the 19th prox; a regular tip-topper, supplied by the 'Aguila' and Gas. There will be a special table and 'menu' for the Press. This is really most thoughtful, as editors are not accustomed to anything but the simplest food, and a little 'puchero' and Valiente Puntano wine is quite enough for them.

An Irishman called loudly for assistance for his friend, shouting that he had sunk up to the ankles in a slough. The party appealed to said he would aid him after he had finished cutting a log, and there was plenty of time. "No, there is not," said the Irishman; "I forget to tell you that he's in head first!"

Major Capedivila gave an excellent lecture on Army Discipline at the Naval Club on Wednesday night. General Lavalle embraced him at the finish. A kiss from an old trooper like the gallant General must be very encouraging.

On Wednesday a man fainted when crossing the railway at the Vasura station at the Once, on seeing a train coming up rather close to him. It could not have been very close, as he was pulled off the track before it came up.

There was a laughable boxing match on the mole on Wednesday between two "changadores." Strange to say, neither seemed to have a knife about him, and they bruised and mauled each other till they had to stop for want of puff. The bystanders enjoyed the scrimmage immensely.

Mr T. W. Bennett offers to stock the river Limay with salmon at his own cost; but Government to give him two leagues of land on the banks if he succeeds; if he do not, then nothing, except a preferential right to buy the land. This is a sporting offer. By all means let Mr B. try. No song, no supper. Nothing could be fairer.

A Colon ballet girl was robbed of a thousand nats worth of jewels the other day while she was out at rehearsal. One of two women servants she kept was found to be the thief. Two servants for one ballet girl seems rather an expensive scale of living.

The Nogues Hotel at Mercedes now keeps a free omnibus that goes roaming about the town and gives those who want to go to the hotel, and a lot who don't, a free lift. It also goes to the station for and with passengers. As Mercedes horses eat next to nothing, this scheme may pay Tamagno has left Ferrari in the lurch in Rio, and has gone home to Europe. The 'empresario' owes him nearly £6,000 of which, of course, he will now never see a ghost again. Ferrari will find it difficult to get any more 'stars' for South America.

The famous lawsuit of Ponce de Leon versus Baudrix, which has been going on since 1852 has been decided by arbitration, after ten judges and as many previous arbitrators had tried their hands on it in vain. This thirty-three years' legal squabble was all about a miserable 2000 lean kine, which Mr. Baudrix has been condemned to hand over to Mr Pounce-on-the-Lion.

We join cordially a morning colleague who remonstrates against the tram guards starting the cars when ladies and children are in the act of alighting. It is an outrageous thing, cowardly in fact.

La glicerina siendo reconocida hoy por todos los prácticos como el mejor de los tópicos para la composicion de antisárnicos, algunos comerciantes vecinos de su buena fé, ofrecen á nuestros estancieros con el falso nombre de Específico de Glicerina, una mistura que lo alimamos sin temor de ser desmentidos; no es otra cosa que un menjunje de ácido carbólico impuro y de materias heterogéneas, son como lo dicen los avisos y prospectos de esos señores comerciantes los mejores curativos de la sarna, como guascos, larvas, piojos, piojillo, etc., etc., en los animales de la especie ovina.
Por lo tanto, valiéndonos de las palabras de esos señores, podemos garantir que nuestro específico es el mejor, pues es un Sulfo-glicérico cuya base está garantida por 70 o/o de glicerina pesando 28 grados.

Dysentery, Cholera Fever, Ague Coughs, Colds, &c.
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne
(Ex Army Medical Staff)
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's—See Times, July 13th, 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than
Dr J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.
REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensive.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charming Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemist, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 22, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London—"Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhoea, and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne or the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

The gold market this morning opened under the invigorating influence of a stiff breeze that swept the hell clear of all last night's weak tendencies. The rise in the premium to-day looked very much like a "gulling" process, as it could be traced to the columns of a leading colleague who has made startling intelligence, flavored with strong comments, rather a pleasant speciality of late.

The first unpleasant piece of news that is offered to the market is, that the National Government has not made any gold remittances to meet the service of the debt up to the end of the year. So far as shipments of gold are concerned, this is true, but a different construction is put on the meaning of these remittances. The general surmise is that the author of the news wishes to convey to the market that the Government has not made any remittances, whether in gold or in bills, to meet the service on the foreign debt. The information must be accepted "cum grano salis", since the Minister of Finance declared in a message to Congress last month that the Government had already paid, or rather remitted, in anticipation, bills to meet the service up to the end of the year. As there can be no doubt about the ministerial declaration, we may relegate the conclusion drawn from the contradictory announcement, in the columns of a newspaper, to the realms of endless surmise.

A rather more important, and less questionable, piece of news is the unexpected information that the Board of the National Bank has sent a memorandum to the Minister of Finance, answering H.E.'s questions on the circulation and discounts of the Bank and of the condition of the money market throughout the Republic. The Board, it is asserted, informs the Minister that whilst money abounds in this market, in B. Ayres, Sta. Fe and Entre Rios, it rules exceedingly scarce in the Provinces of the Interior. On these grounds, the Board advocates a further issue of paper-money. It stands to reason that, if money is superabundant in some provinces and a drug in this market, the cause lies in excessive issue; if money is scarce in other parts of the Republic, capital does not flow thither for the very tangible reason that no tangible security is offered, because it is not needed. It is to be hoped that Dr. Pacheco will not be led astray by this report of the Board, and that he will oppose to the last any measure tending to increase the paper issue. The whole market opposes the preposterous idea. After reading the above, the reader may be prepared to hear that the 400,000 sovereigns shipped to this country are on account of the Pellegrini loan, and not for account of the National Bank. After all, does it matter a brass farthing for whose account all this gold is shipped—whether it be for the National Bank or the Provincial Bank, for the National Government or the Provincial Government? We all know that the gold is borrowed and shipped at a loss, and that the bankers in Lombard-street will not lend the sovereigns without some very tangible security. We are informed that the London bankers ship the gold for account of the loan, but on condition that the 80,000 shares of the National Bank held by the National Government are handed in guarantee. A colleague goes further, and announces that the National Bank has begun to take exchange to pay back the bankers. Looking at the matter in a business view, would it not be cheaper to reship the gold? The 400,000, sovereigns, part of which arrived in the R.M.S. Tamar, are lent as follows:—

By Baring, 100,000
" Banque de Paris, 125,000
" Comptoir d'Escompte, 50,000, and the remainder by the minor satellites that form the never-to-be-forgotten syndicate.

To crown this melancholy catalogue of financial blunders, one need only add the fact that the market and the country are in danger of hearing, to-day or to-morrow, that the Pellegrini loan is signed and sealed for the second time. The French members of the Syndicate have waived a point, and have accepted the modifications proposed by this Government, but the London bankers still hold back with a semi-reluctant feeling to accept or to reject the amendments. All this news came in gusts on 'Change, and a bullish gale was blowing when the ring opened. The bears felt the squall coming on and were prepared to see the premium rise much higher than it did, but this tide of bad news had a neutralizing effect, and the wary ones began to smell a rat. It looked as if all this gloomy news was launched on the market from certain quarters where there is an evident desire to sell, and some parties sold heavily on the strength of the rise. Several hitches are already announced, and the premature announcement of these difficulties has the healthy effect of removing some pressure of the liquidation which is the phantom of the market.

One hundred thousand dollars gold changed hands for cash: the market opened at 44, rose to 44½, fell to 43⅞, and closed at the opening rate. Over one hundred thousand were sold for the 29th at the same rates, more or less. Operations for the end of the month embraced half a million; the market opened at 44. rose to 44½, fell to 43½ and closed at 44. Over two hundred thousand were sold for the end of September; rates opened at 42 fell to 41½, rose to 42½ and closed at 42. Small amounts were sold for November at 40 and for December at 38. The market closed firm.

Business ruled dull in stocks and shares. A few thousand Cedulas E and F changed hands at 81 and 80, respectively; 105,000 Series G were sold cash at 88 and 87½, and 45,000 for the end of the month at 87⅞. Two hundred Certificates were sold for the end of September at 107. Sixty two Shares of the Old Gas Company changed hands at 2,050@⅝ each.

Exchange ruled firm to-day. There were no takers, and the rate went up to 46½ and 47d. If the State Banks keep out of the market, exchange will resume its normal, upward tendency. The money market is easy; rates shew no change.

The following is a summary of operations effected this morning at the ring during official hours:—

There was heavy business done in gold at afternoon; the market rules tremendously firm, but some of the principal operators began this evening to 'unsay' which somewhat eased the room. It was known also that gold is being brought up from Montevideo, and in very large amounts, to meet the liquidation. Still there is a very strong impression that there is a severe corner for the end of the month, and many parties insist that five millions of patacones have yet to be bought to close the liquidation, but the bulls well know their own interest in the market, and will not push things too far. The failure of two well-know German brokers, through default of their clients, was known this morning; one party stops with differences up to 80,000 m/n, and the other a lesser amount. Owing to the very honorable conduct of the first broker in giving timely notice nearly every one affected by the smash was able to cover in time to-day and without much altering the market. At 5 p.m. gold closed at 144.70 buyers having ruled at 145, at which rate very large amounts were sold.

We have to correct our statement yesterday about the judicial auction of stock by Mr Arriola, who did not use any hammer of any description at the sale in question.

Mr Croker, manager of the great Liebig Factory, Fray Bentos, was welcomed. He may indeed be congratulated on the splendid prosperity of the company under his able management.

The R.M.S. Tamar, has postponed her sailing to 4th prox. She will be here on Saturday, and out of quarantine on 31st; the gold is in quarantine. She returns to Rio to load a coffee cargo there at 40s.

It is estimated that over 900,000 nats in gold transactions were 'casared' this afternoon for end of month. Passes to next month could only be done at a late hour at 1½.

"The Bank's position is rather less strong this week, gold having been withdrawn for Ireland, as well as for abroad. The decrease in the reserve is £321,000, and the proportion to the liabilities has declined from 45½ to 45 per cent. The private deposits have fallen £1,140,000, but of this £820,000 has been transferred to the public deposits. There is practically no change in the other securities. In the coin and bullion the decrease is £615,000, which shows, after allowing for £291,000, withdrawn chiefly for the R. Plate, an outflow of sovereigns, chiefly for Ireland, of £324,000. On the other hand, the notes held by the public have decreased £294,000.

"Discount rates have shown a slightly harder tendency within the last day or two, and it is possible that the upward movement may be carried a stage further. Gold is now being exported almost daily to the R. Plate, in connexion with the new Argentine Loan, and it is said that a million sterling may leave this side within a short time. This, in itself, is not a very important matter, in view of the strong position of the Bank, and the fact that the metal continues to be shipped from Australia; but it must be remembered that internal requirements begin to tell upon the Bank, even during the summer months, and that the usual "autumn drain" may be expected to reduce the reserve to the extent of at least some £2,500,000."

Buenos Ayres, August 25th, 1885

To the Editors of the Standard,

Dear Sir,

Let me call your attention to the marvellous advantages of the London Clearing House, which I take from a letter in "Gilbart's Principles and Practice of Banking" which letter reads as follow:—

Sir,

The third year during which the Clearing House statistics have been published has now elapsed, and Messrs. Darbyshire & Pocock, the inspectors, have prepared for us certain statistics, from which the following will, I think, be interesting to many of your readers.

The total amount of cheques and bills paid at the Clearing House during the year ending 30th April, 1870, have amounted to £3,729,023,000 being an increase of £186,584,000 over 1869 and of £463,212,000 over 1868.

The amounts passing through on the 4th of the month form the best indication as to the state of the internal trade of the country, and it is therefore satisfactory to find that the total of 1870 has been 168,923,000, showing an increase of 6,662,000 over 1869 and 150,320,000 over 1868.

The payments on the 24th Stock Exchange settling days of 1870 have amounted to 594,763,000, showing an increase of 44,141,000 over 1868 and 150,320,000 over 1869.

The payments on the 19 Consol settling days for the same period have amounted to 148,822,000, showing an increase of 16,529,000.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN LUBBOCK.
Hon. Sec. London Bankers.

15, Lombard-street, 5th May, 1870.

I think that a Clearing House in Buenos Ayres, not only would help business but the money market too, to a great extent.

Yours truly,
C.

Sr Don F. G. Walker,
Estancia "Sauce Chico,"
Bahia Blanca, Febrero 23, de 1885

"En contestacion a la pregunta de Vds debo decir que cuando mande pedir Tijeras Chicas No 26 y 27 de Ward y Payne segun las muestras que Vds me remitieron, Vds me contestaron que estas ya se les habian concluido. Hubiera deseado tener mas de ellas pues tenian aqui mucha aceptacion. Las Tijeras que hemos empleado en este Establecimiento este año han sido los Nos 100 y 125 de Ward y Payne marca Bigornia."
